

FIRST SOUTH PAVING NEAR COMPLETION

MURRAY NOTES.

The case of William Green, one of the youths who assaulted Joseph Seaborn last week by hitting him over the head with a club, came up before Judge Holm at Murray yesterday. Frank Stevens, attorney for the defendant, waived preliminary hearing, and Judge Holm, having given over to the district court. The case of the Pace youth was not on the docket, but will come up next week.

The residence of W. H. Weaver, near the Highland Boy smelter, caught fire at an early hour Saturday morning and before the conflagration could be extinguished the roof and part of the walls were burned away. Considerable furniture was destroyed. The cause is attributed to a defective flue.

A mass meeting will be held in the Murray city hall Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing a commercial club to boost the interests of the Smelter City.

Funeral services over the remains of Gustaf Nelson, the old-timer who died Tuesday of a complication of diseases, will be held Sunday at 12 o'clock from the Big Cottonwood grand chapel. Interment will be in the Murray cemetery.

Prominent members of the First ward are planning a musical carnival to be held at the First ward chapel sometime within the next few months. All the wards in Granite stake will enter contestants and prizes will be awarded.

Mrs. Gustave E. Vlasing, wife of Thomas Vlasing of Bingham Junction, died at her home Friday morning of stomach trouble. She had been a sufferer from this complaint for some time. She leaves a husband and a young child aged 5 years. Funeral services will take place in Salt Lake Sunday.

Elections will take place in each of the municipal wards in Murray very shortly for the purpose of electing members of the board of aldermen. The clerk of the board rendered his statement this week, showing the receipts and disbursements of the Murray school district for the year ending June 30, 1908.

A LOADED WOMAN.

(Philadelphia Ledger.) An elderly patient in the Tennessee mountain region was suffering from a remedy the remedy for which the doctor prescribed in the form of capsules. The old woman trusted her medical adviser, but for the medicine she evinced much suspicion.

Some time after she had taken the capsules she was asked by her son how she felt.

"Purely."

"Don't you want nothin' to eat?"

"No."

Soon, however, the old woman arose from her bed and took her seat in a rocking chair. Thinking that the attention would be gratefully received, the son filled her pipe, and taking a live coal from the hearth, carried both to his mother.

"Take that away, son!" called the old woman in the utmost fright. "Don't you know better'n to come near me when I've got them cartridges in me?"

ANOTHER LIE NAILED.

(Kansas City Times.) "Have you any statement to make in answer to the charge that the names of dead men were voted in your district?"

"It is unqualifiedly false. Those names were names of men who never existed."

FORCES KIDNEYS TO ACT

New Drug Maizene Makes Them Filter the Impure Blood.

Ever since the New Drug Maizene, for Kidney and Bladder Troubles, was introduced, some months ago, the F. J. Hill Drug company, Wilkes-Barre Drug Company, F. C. Schramm, and other first-class drug stores, have been kept busy supplying the demand. Maizene acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys, forcing them to filter the poisons from the impure blood, preventing Rheumatism and other diseases arising from bad blood. Maizene also acts upon the bladder, and it is claimed that it prevents any calculus formations. The manufacturers of Maizene put it up in one-ounce bottles only, all can take the original package home and mix it yourself. Each package makes a pint of kidney mixture. At the very first signs of backache, which is the signal for kidney trouble, you should get a bottle of Maizene and make some of this excellent medicine. Maizene can be had from any drug store or by sending the direct to the laboratories of the Cooper Pharmaceutical company, 119 East Lake street, Chicago, Ill.

PIONEER PASSES IN DEATH OF BUCKWALTER

Another of Utah's pioneers and home builders has gone in the passing of H. S. Buckwalter. He was born in Chester county, Pennsylvania, in the year 1821, and when about 20 years of age he took up the trail for the west. He crossed the plains, and after roaming through the central states, going as far north as the Black Hills, in Dakota, he finally came to Utah, where he remained the rest of his life. He was a veteran of the Black Hawk Indian war and the Tintic Indian war. The greater part of his life was spent in farming, but three years ago he retired from active work. Mr. Buckwalter had a wide circle of friends here, among whom his death is deplored. He is survived by a widow and seven children. Testimony to his worth was offered at impressive funeral services held last Sunday in the Twenty-first ward meeting house.

THE OLD EGG.

(New York Sun.) Mrs. Pierre Lorillard Ronalds, at a luncheon in New York, narrated her impressions of the great city that she had not seen for twenty years.

"New York has now taken her place among the world's capitals," she said. "New York is no longer young and unsophisticated. She has now all the weariness and vice of Paris, London and Rome."

"They who still speak of New York as young, childish, innocent, speak very foolishly. They remind me of Lord Exe of the Carlton."

"Lord Exe at 70, tried to lead the life of a youth of 25. He dyed his hair, wore a corset, and frequented the music halls, Piccadilly circus, and the Burlington arcade."

"One afternoon, as he drove from the Carlton in his brougham, a member said, smiling:

"There goes Exe. He told me over a whisky and soda just now that he felt as fresh as a 2-year-old."

"Another member sneered.

"He probably meant a 2-year-old egg," he murmured."

A PRACTICAL ANSWER.

(Argonaut.) Some one asked Max Nordau to define the difference between genius and insanity. "Well," said the author of "Degeneration," "the lunatic is, at least, sure of his board and clothes."

COMMENTS ON CATARRH.

Giving Excellent Recipe for Its Quick Relief and Cure.

The only logical treatment for catarrh is through the blood. A prescription, which has recently proved so wonderfully effective in hospital work, is the following. It is an exceedingly simple mixture, but one that will bring quick results and put the system in a normal condition.

The paving on East First South will soon be completed. It has been long in the laying. There was a difference between some of the property owners with respect to the asphalt to be used—whether California or Utah. The settlement of that question caused much delay. There is heavy grading in some parts of the street, but the machines have reduced the obstacles and the street that was a dusty, so-called, macadam before, is now a beautifully improved thoroughfare. The picture shown herewith is one taken last week in front of Holy Cross hospital, between Tenth and Eleventh East streets. It is a typical scene along one of Salt Lake's modern streets.

LOCAL STOCKS QUOTED.

Brokers in the Salt Lake stock market report that, despite the increased stringency in the money market, as reflected in the higher rates of interest on 14-day loans, the list of stocks held up well during the past week, and the general movement has been one of advancing prices instead of receding prices.

Sugar stocks again took the lead in the market, as is shown by a study of the table below. Information from the Utah and Idaho sugar plants is to the effect that 90 per cent of the beet crop has been harvested, and all of the beets will be cut of the ground and delivered in another week if the favorable weather holds out.

DEATH OF JOS. M. JENSEN, JR.

Brigham, Nov. 13.—Word was received here today announcing the death of Joseph M. Jensen, Jr., at his ranch near Promontory Point, west of Garland. Mr. Jensen was the oldest son of J. M. Jensen of Salt Lake City, and was born in this city some thirty-three years ago. Mr. Jensen was a bright young man of exceptionally keen business ability, and had a pleasant and congenial nature. He leaves a wife and three children. The remains will be brought to this city for burial, but the services will not take place until J. M. Jensen, father of the deceased, returns from Mexico, where he went about a week ago to look after his business interests.

NEEDED THE PRAYERS.

(New York Times.) The late Lord Sackville, as all the world knows, became persona non grata to the government while he was ambassador to Washington, through expressing an opinion on the political situation.

"It was through a mean trick that Lord Sackville was led into this expression of opinion," said a London correspondent the other day. "Once, in describing the trick to me, he compared himself to a country clergyman."

"This clergyman, he explained, was waited on one Sunday morning by a young man."

"Will you kindly ask the congregation's prayers this morning," said the young man, "for poor William Smith?"

"Willingly," said the clergyman.

"And at the proper moment in the service he besought all those present to pray for the unfortunate William Smith in the great trouble and peril that encompassed him."

"The request, he was pleased to note, made a deep impression on the congregation."

"After the service, meeting the young man who had asked for intercession in Smith's behalf, the clergyman said:

"What is the matter with your friend? Do you think it would do any good if I were to call on him?"

"I'm afraid not," was the sorrowful reply.

"Is it as bad as that?" said the clergyman. "What is the trouble, then?"

"But," said the other, "is going to be married."

WHERE THE LETTER FAILETH.

(Washington Star.) According to Mr. Rafferty, the phonetic impulse of the day needs to be restrained. The gentleman in question regarded a city building with interest.

"Dolan," said he, "what does this letters 'MDCCCXCVII' mean?"

"They mean eighteen hundred and ninety-seven."

"Dolan," came the query, after a thoughtful pause, "don't yez think they're overdone this spelling reform a bit?"

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cure of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent or one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle, Home of Swamp-Root, by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
